

Sanctuary Supported Living shortlisted for regional Care Employer Award

October 2021

Sanctuary Supported Living staff are celebrating after being named as a finalist at the West Midlands region of the Great British Care Awards 2021.

Sanctuary Supported Living offers a range of accommodation with personalised care and support for vulnerable adults and young people - including people who have learning or physical disabilities, people with mental health needs and people who are homeless or at risk of homelessness.

The supported housing provider has been shortlisted in The Care Employer Award category at the regional Great British Care Awards, which recognises and celebrates exceptional employers, their commitment to care and how they are successfully delivering high-quality care to the people they support.

The Care Employer award is the sixth category in which Sanctuary Supported Living has been shortlisted at this year's Great British Care Awards, following recent nominations in the Putting People First and Personalisation award, the Care Newcomer award, the Housing with Care award and the Frontline Leader award at the East of England region, as well as the Frontline Leader award for Local Service Manager Samantha McCrindle in the South West region.

This is also the third time that Sanctuary Supported Living has been recognised for its dedication to its staff, after previously winning the Car Employer award at the West Midlands region in 2019, and also being named as a finalist in the Employer Award category at this year's national Learning Disability and Autism awards last month.

Sara Keetley, Operations Director for Sanctuary Supported Living, said: “I’m delighted that we have been recognised in the Great British Care Awards as an employer which has a track record of delivering high quality care and managing improvements. By supporting our teams to be their best, the people we support and care for in our services can be their best. This is also recognition of the extraordinary work of our staff throughout the Covid pandemic, which has been an extremely challenging time for everyone in our sector.”
